Detectable First Aid Dressings

Metal Detectable Premium Dressings
Developed following extensive collaboration with global food retail and service sector brands, these unique Aero dressings are now specified with leading companies who have considered that retention, effective wound coverage and ultimately retrieval is essential to their valuable reputation.

Klipspringer recognises the research and product development that has been invested and, of utmost importance, the success that these products have experienced over several years, globally.

Minor first aid is not just a quick fix but deserves the right attention and is essential for a commitment to product integrity, customer satisfaction and protection from adverse publicities and unwanted cost.
